

Dr. Steve Hughes: The Future of Education

Dr. Hughes discusses why the current system of teacher-led, curriculum-based education does not work to fully support students' success. He describes how students can benefit from classrooms that place emphasis on self-control, cognitive flexibility, and building working memory.

Friday, March 20th, 2015, 6 to 8 p.m.

Linehan Chapel, Nazareth College Campus
4245 East Avenue, Rochester, NY 14618

Open to the public. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased in advance at local Montessori Schools or at the door on the 20th.

Dr. Hughes serves as a director of The Center for Research on Developmental Education and is past president of the American Academy of Pediatric Neuropsychology. He is an advocate for activity-based developmental education, and is a frequent speaker and consultant to education organizations around the world. Dr. Hughes is a Fellow at the Inamori International Center for Ethics and Excellence at Case Western Reserve University and serves as Chair of the Association Montessori Internationale Global Research Committee.
